

20-minute summer sauté

BY CAROLINE CHAMBERS

Serves 2

Cook time: 20 minutes

Tools:

- Chef's knife
- Cutting board
- A large skillet (ideally 14 inches but 12 works too)
- If you're working with a smaller skillet, you'll need a large bowl too
- Spatula or wooden spoon

Ingredients:

- 2 zucchini, sliced into thin half circles
- Extra-virgin olive oil
- Kosher salt
- 2 chicken sausages (anything works — Italian, roasted garlic, even chicken & apple will be delish), sliced into 1/4-inch rounds
- 1 cup cherry tomatoes, halved
- 2 garlic cloves, minced
- 1 1/2 cups frozen or fresh white corn
- Black pepper
- 1 to 2 tablespoons balsamic vinegar
- Optional toppings: feta, fresh soft green herbs

Cut 2 zucchini in half vertically, then into thin half-circle slices.

Warm 1 tablespoon extra-virgin olive oil over medium-high heat in your largest skillet, then add the zucchini in as even a layer as possible. Cook for 4 to 5 minutes, until golden-brown, then stir. Do your best to flip them all over, but don't stress over it! Spread them into an even layer again and cook until the second side is golden-brown, another 3 to 4 minutes. When they are browned all over, season with 1/2 teaspoon kosher salt.

While the zucchini is cooking, slice 2 chicken sausages into 1/4-inch thick rounds and halve 1 cup cherry tomatoes.

Scooch the cooked zucchini over to one side of the skillet, then reposition your skillet so that the zucchini is off the flame and the now-empty part of the skillet is centered.

Add another little drizzle of extra-virgin olive oil to the empty side of the pan if it looks dry, then add the sliced chicken sausage and halved tomatoes and brown them all over, cooking for 4 to 5 minutes.

Mince 2 garlic cloves while the sausage and tomatoes are cooking.

Add a tiny bit more oil to the pan if it's looking dry, then add the minced garlic, 1 1/2 cups corn, and several grinds of black pepper right on top of the sausage and tomatoes. Stir everything together until the corn is hot and all excess moisture has evaporated, about 2 minutes.

Stir in 1 tablespoon balsamic vinegar. Taste. Does it need more tanginess? Add up to another tablespoon of vinegar (I use 2 tablespoons!). Does it taste flat? Add more salt! You gotta get in there and own this seasoning process, honey! Every summer veggie is so different and requires more/less help to taste like the best version of itself!

Divide between two plates (or, ideally, coupe bowls).

If you want to go the extra mile, garnish with feta (however much you want!) and fresh herbs (same!).

ENJOY!
